This research data description should be read and understood in the context of the corresponding manuscript. The figure numbers correspond to the figure numbers of the manuscript and the data corresponds to the data as shown in the figures.