The image contains a graph with data for different supplements (Omega 3, Probiotics, Multivitamins, Vitamin D) across different regions (UK, US, SE) and genders (Overall, Females, Males). The graph shows odds ratios with 95% confidence intervals. The x-axis represents the odds ratio, while the y-axis represents the different supplements. The colors and markers correspond to different regions and genders.