Memo – PPU Current Yearly Financing by State Budget

The Portuguese public financing model establishes three levels for HE: the current yearly financing by state budget; the financing of the Investment Plan and the financing resorting to contracts.

The current yearly financing by state budget model foresees a reference factor indexed to system quality and excellence criteria for each economic year.

The ministry annually establishes the ratios for the areas of eligible students and types of staff..

Area	Ratio	Students	Teaching Staff
		Teaching Staff	Non Teaching Staff
Medicine; Dental Medicine		1/6	0.85
Music			0.45
Sciences; Technology; Pharmaceutical Sciences		1/11	0.75
Veterinary Science		1/9	0.85
Agriculture; Sylviculture; Fishing		1/11	0.75
Physical Education; Psychology; Media		1/12	0.50
Architecture		1/12	0.50
Visual Arts		1/12	0.50
Computation		1/14	0.50
Mathematics		1/14	0.50
Economics; Management; Languages; Geography		1/17	0.45
Humanities Arts; Social Sciences		1/20	0.35
Law; Social Politics		1/20	0.35
Education	Sciences; Dental Techniques		0.75
	Languages		0.45
	Mathematics		0.45
	Letters; Social Sciences		0.35
Pos-Graduat	Medicine; Dental Medicine; Music	1/5	0.75
	Tecnologi; Pharmaceutical Sciences; Medicine; Fishing; Veterinary; Agriculture; Syviculture	1/8	0.75
	another postgraduations	1/13	0.45
Central Office		number of students	Non Teaching Staff
1 a 3.000 students		A	30
3.001 a 14.000 students		B	D=B/140
> 14.001 students		C	E=C/180
Sum total		N=A+B+C	ND=30+D+E

(Year:2005/2006)

Based on these ratios, the number of standard teaching staff and standard non-teaching staff is obtained for each institution:

PPU – No. of Students and Standard Teaching and Non-Teaching Staff

	Number of students		Standard
	Graduate	Pos-Graduate	Teaching Staff	Non-Teaching Staff
UC	20,273	876	1,638	1,152

Memo – PPU Legal Framework

- University Autonomy Law (Law no. 108/88 of 24/9);
- University Autonomy Development (DL no. 252/97 of 26/9);
- Legal Regime of HE Development and Quality (Law no.1/2003 of 6/1).

The constitutional autonomy for PPU corresponds to a set of rights, such as:

- defining its internal organization, its statutory constitution;
- self-determination and self-organization in scientific and pedagogic matters;
- defining its cultural and discipline politics;
- managing its financial resources (administrative, financial and patrimonial), in accordance with DL no.252/97 of 26/9.
- Assessment (Law no. 38/94 of 21/11; Law no. 205/98 of 21/7 and Statement no. 484/2006 of 9/1).

The National Evaluation Board for HE is a non-operational agency, which supervises the assessment process. Four Assessment Boards perform the organization of assessment itself: Public Universities, Private Universities, Public Polytechnics and Private Polytechnics. It is of the responsibility of the Public Universities Assessment Board to control the assessment process in PPU.

Appendix 2.2.3.a. Rationality Models in Organizations

Models Decision Elements	Rational	Collegial	Politics	Bureaucratic	Anarchic
Values	acknowledged from the start	Shared responsibility	Multiple, non-consensual, based on self-interests	Operational efficiency	Diffuse, multiple, motivated by choice of opportunity
Alternatives	Means to serve the desired ends	Determined by the participants background and interests and by the evolution of the discussion	Expressing the actors' personal interests	Historic. Isn't searched outside the routine	Problems and solutions that fluctuate
Premises	Maximizing	Consensus	Winning	"It worked before"	"Ad-hoc" Accident
Information	Complete (economic perspective)	Relevant Soft	Incomplete	Relevant: procedures and rules	casual and without hierarchising
Choices	Choosing the maximizing alternative	Chooses the solution that satisfies the majority	Enact the group proposal that prevails	Identifying the procedure's output	Enacting coincidence Inconsistent
Implementation	Represent "enact details of choice"	Delegated or "enacted" by each person	Certifying and Monitoring details of choice	Determined by sub-routines	Incidental
Results	Intended consequences	Organic change	Negotiating the consequences of choice	Predicted through the organization's structure and interaction rules	Incidental
Feed-back	Useful information for understanding causal relations, nature of the problem	Informal, ad-hoc	Relative changes in the actor's strength and in organizational conditions	Repetition	New problems, solutions and actors
Advantages / Disadvantages	(+) logical and sequential approach (-) simplifying premises (do not contemplate cross-sectioning)	(+) participative and promotes commitment (-) potentially little efficient and effective	(+) functioning close to reality (-) the best solution may not be selected	(+) privileges efficiency (-) little flexible	(+) contemplates causality (-) lack of efficiency

Na sequência do Despacho Reitoral de 2002.04.03, junto envio a V. Ex<sup>a</sup> o projecto-piloto a desenvolver no âmbito do programa do International Centre for Higher Education Management da Universidade de Bath pela Administração. Trata-se duma proposta de trabalho, intitulada “Construção e acompanhamento de um Sistema de Informação de apoio à Gestão Universitária” que se destina à construção de um sistema de informação, ao serviço de uma efectiva melhoria da gestão académica.

As instituições, e as universidades em particular, são hoje centros de informação, onde esta circula em turbilhão, e cujo registo pode ser orientado no sentido de uma melhoria contínua.

O modelo deverá ser construído a partir de uma unidade-piloto, propondo-se uma Faculdade, eventualmente a Faculdade de Economia, desde que os órgãos competentes desta Unidade Orgânica venham a considerar o presente projecto relevante e com interesse para a Escola.

Dado o objectivo da investigação, a utilidade que pode ter para a universidade e considerando a relação profissional existente, pretende-se colher o sentido do enquadramento do projecto no âmbito da organização, o que passará por uma definição do Reitor. Face ao exposto, venho, deste modo, solicitar a V. Ex<sup>a</sup> se digne informar sobre o entendimento da instituição relativamente ao projecto piloto que vai ser desenvolvido.

Appendix 4.4.1.a. FEUC - Document sent to Interviewees

A management decision support system (MDSS) is being developed at the Faculty of Economics. This project is guided towards the internal needs of the different management levels of the Faculty.

In a first phase we decided the main objective would be to collect the perceptions of Top Management regarding the

- ♦ strategic organizational objectives;
- ♦ management critical variables;
- ♦ information systems.

This objective aims to establish an adequate framework of the development of the project and to achieve results that correspond to the needs and expectations of the agents.

For this effect I requested an interview, which would last approximately 1h30m. Thanking you in advance, I thought it would be adequate and convenient to make you acquainted with the Interview Guide.

1. What are the Faculty's strategic organizational objectives that determine your activity?
2. What are the critical management areas (variables) of the different activities developed by the Faculty?
3. In what way, and with what instruments, do you monitor the areas for which the body you are part of is responsible?
4. What criteria do you privilege in the efficiency level evaluation of an information system for management in the Faculty?

Thank you for your cooperation.

Dear _____

In the scope of the project design and development of a management decision support system (MDSS), and subsequent to the interview you so kindly agreed to do, giving me some of your time and sharing ideas and feelings which are fundamental to develop the project I forward to you a summary where the main ideas are highlighted.

The conclusions that are presented in the attached sheet are a result of the initial phase of the work. They denote the Faculty's organizational objectives survey and the characteristics that should be taken into consideration in a decision support system.

My unconditional appreciation for the personal and important contribute to this project,

Yours sincerely,

(Margarida Mano)

29 March 2004

The 15 interviews carried out at Faculty's Top Management level allowed us to identify the main organizational objectives and collect perceptions regarding the needs of an Information System of Managements Decision Support.

In fact, although the faculty does not have a defined formal strategic structure, the interviews allowed us to perceive that there is a very strong consensus, at top management level, regardless the body the managers belong to, or the body they represent, regarding:

- the mission and the Faculty's strategic objectives greatly directed towards the knowledge process, and in particular of education (teaching and learning); in a systematic perspective of openness towards society, whether in respect to the community, by means of a social mission that derives from its public nature, whether related to the market, by means of the competition strategies of which IFEUC is a clear example of a project of internal discussion and galvanization;
- the role of the support services, as a network that should function in an (autonomous?) way facilitating the managers' role, towards being less time consuming;
- the importance of a management decision support system, based on the dynamization of the internal networks of scientific, academic and student nuclei, and whose structure should be made in a mixed manner between the electronic channels, with a high information selection, and personalized oral and/or written channels, where information is simultaneously transmitted, discussed and validated.

Appendix 4.4.2.a. UC - Document sent to Interviewees

Dear Professor _____,

I thank you for the time you have granted me for a conversation which will take approximately one hour, on ____, _____, at __h__m, at the Faculty of _____-. This request is made in the scope of the study i am developing about “Decision Making Model and underlying Information System in a Portuguese Public University”, where , in a first phase, surveying the perceptions regarding the decision process in faculties is one of the most important steps.

Thus, our idea exchange will be developed in the following scope:

I. Perception of Decision-Making

1. While being the one responsible for management in the University/Faculty which is/are the activity/activities where you feel your action has more impact?
In which areas do you think your decisions influence in a more relevant manner the future of the University/Faculty?
2. What is your perception regarding the importance of the decision-making process, in the different activities, at Faculties/University level.

II. Decision-Making Process

1. How do you make decisions?
On what are you decisions preferably based? What conditions do you find necessary? What information?
2. How do you put into practice the decisions that are made?
What type of delegation do you consider to be important (if it exists)?
What type of monitoring do you consider to be necessary (if it exists)?

III. Relevant Information for the Decision-Making Process

1. What are the critical variables that you consider absolutely relevant in the decision-making process?
2. What is the type of information whose absence is, in your opinion, more evident in the decision-making process?

The information collected is exclusively for this study and will naturally be classified, as well as its source.

Thank you for your cooperation,
Margarida Mano

Appendix 4.4.2.b. UC - Interview Guide

I. Perception of Decision-Making

1. While being the one responsible for management in the University/Faculty which is/are the activity/activities where you feel your action as a decision-maker has more impact?

In which areas do you think your decisions influence in a more relevant manner the future of the University/Faculty?

- Can you give some examples? In the different areas?
  - Which ones take up more of your time?
2. What is your perception regarding the decision-making process, in the different activities, at Faculties/University level.
    - collect the management units that are identified.

II. Decision-Making Process

1. How do you make decisions?

On what are you decisions preferably based? What conditions do you find necessary? What information?

- leadership style
  - information type:
    - ♦ deep information/knowledge of a certain area “informed judgement”;
    - ♦ hard information – positive
    - ♦ soft information – informal/subjective
    - ♦ without information “instinct”
2. How do you put into practice the decisions that are made?

What type of delegation do you consider to be important (if it exists)?

What type of monitoring do you consider to be necessary (if it exists)?

III. Relevant Information for the Decision-Making Process

1. What are the critical variables that you consider absolutely relevant in the decision-making process?
  - ♦ to identify by activity;
  - ♦ to identify frequency;
  - ♦ to identify the type of monitoring.
2. What is the type of information whose absence is, in your opinion, more evident in the decision-making process?

		How do I gather information for the bulletin? In the following way: I request, one week before I make it; I publicize, by email to all teachers through a message that reads "bulletin number whatever is going to be edited, regarding month x and that any information they consider relevant... that they think should be included in the information bulletin they should email it to me. That is the first step I take. I do this every month, just for teachers. In truth, I regret not having done this from the beginning for teaching-staff and student, but due to circumstantial reasons I did this for teachers, which was something that wasn't done up to then, and it remained that way, and it's something that hasn't brought on bad results. External: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Publicity in Schools and Fairs</li> </ul>			people are involved. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- It is important that continuous information gathering mechanisms exist.</li> </ul>

Because, sometimes people say they don't see it... but that's because they don't open their emails, a lot of them; other don't look at the bulletin boards. And then things get lost. But I think we also have another great solution other than that, because sending letters out to people... even though they are sent. There are times when, other than that, we reinforce it, when it is something of great concern... we also send a letter. But, presently, if people are a little concerned that is almost enough.

Students  - Extension Units: Nuclei and Student Associations	- Important to acknowledge the type of usage of Bibliography, the type of computer room usage, to understand if the worst quality that students are served with is due to the users from outside the Faculty.	Students – have little information in the management bodies (partial information) - They have a lot of information regarding the extension organizations (Student Nuclei, etc.) - Facility for crucial access - Improvement in the registration service.

I think students are interested in filling those out, but then they come to a point when they see that it's not used, or the results are not made public and then they think they are not really participating, that this is not taken into account”.	- Email - Information bulletin if useful – it should be improved in terms of design	- Email box for student suggestions	Education - Success rate - Class Absence rate Library – what kind of book is mostly borrowed. I would say digital and in person in this order and mandatorily a binomial. - Connected channels			managers Ex: “the System should stand upon the institution’s functioning, but does not comprise implicit priorities”.
12	- Computerized student profile - Teaching Staff quantitative information (absences, tardiness...)				- Information System guided towards the student, rather than to the teacher - Only collect information that is absolutely necessary.
13	- Social Balance: Information on accounting Information on performance - Information should Be easy to gather Be of interest on the managers point of view (production) and in the analysts point of view (evaluation) Portray the reality of the organization
14			- Coordinators of 1st Degrees		- Information should be accessible, it should flow... it should be flexible.
15		- Define the information circuits.  ‘everything is in the Faculty’s homepage’. Don’t come and ask me, for God’s sake, with the thousand things I have to do, to be concerned, me who doesn’t even know when the meetings take place, to go and look in the Faculty’s homepages to see if there are minutes so I can read them. Before this means was used the minutes got to every service.	- Coordinators of the Support Services - Coordination between bodies.		- Library: automating loans. - Rest upon a more intensive usage of the data bases, of the funds, etc..

OBSERVATIONS

- 1) Median - the middle value when measurements are arranged from lowest to highest
- 2) Mode - the measurement that occurs most often (highest frequency)
- 3) Variance - sum of the squared deviations of the measurements from their mean
- 4) Standard-Deviation - the positive square root of the variance
- 5) Lower Limit
- 6) Upper Limit
- 7) Range - difference between the two extreme data points (min and max)
- 8) Error of Measurement - observations from population differ by more than just their means
- 9) Coefficient of Variation - variability in the values in a population relative to the magnitude of the population mean
- 10) absolute frequency - absolute number of times a given measurement is observed
- 11) relative frequency - absolute frequency divided by total number of measurements

P 6 4 -4

Type: Memo

The PCD, in some situation, appears as a bureaucratic manager, who spends his time "signing papers", "handing out processes".

"It's more like managing, according to requests, and who can give us an answer to those requests. Sometimes I feel that it's a distribution chain. This goes here, this goes there. It's distributing processes by the different services. If we are good at it, almost nothing is left for us".

In the areas that the PCD doesn't delegate we feel, in this statement, that listening to others is not a decisive factor in the DMP.

P 1 28 -28

No codes

There is some conservativeness in the proposals: a different top management model is proposed, but change does not question some of the current premises (the vote of the three bodies).

P 8 14 -14

No codes

The management model is determinant in extensive duration of the DMP, due to several factors:

- a slow decision circuit;
- a complex decision circuit (collegial and political);
- corporative interests;
- decision centralization.

MEMO: Leader as a God (1 Quotation) (Super, 1805-05 12:27:53)

P 1 53 -53

Code(s): [DMP]

No memos

Type: Memo

The Leader is seen as a God: he is fair and correct in his decisions; he doesn't need to "loose" time with the decision process.

The dangers of this line of thinking are felt by the interviewee, who feels the need to highlight that the leader is not a dictator. A simple and fundamentalist view of the leadership model.

P10 54 -54

Type: Memo

In the faculty Management Models, the type of Body doesn't seem to be adequate for the management needs. Although in the case of Strategic decisions a collective body may be appropriate, in executive decisions there should be an executive director.

MEMO: Political Rationality vs Information (1 Quotation) (Super, 04-06-05 14:11:41)

P 8 126 -126

No codes

No memos

Type: Memo

Political Rationality exists but is not dominant. The DMP tends towards objectivity. It does not search for consensus for the sake of consensus: if it has to stop during a process, it isn't because there isn't consensus, but rather because it needs additional information (work documents, meetings, opinions).

MEMO: Post-graduation Students' Representitivity (1 Quotation) (Super, 05-06-05 13:59:19)

P10 38 -38

Type: Memo

It can be sensed that the Faculty still does not consider post graduations as important as graduation degrees. In this case (post-graduation) graduate degree students' participation is discussed, but post-graduate students' participation is not even equated. They are not considered as actors in the management model. although the management model comprises students, students who participate, in Faculties and at the AAC, are exclusively graduate degree students.

Type: Memo

We can generally see power delegation in Faculties, mostly informal, with a perspective of current management, which is somehow limited to operational and controlled decisions. In the perspective of who delegates it is an important delegation.

Appendix 6.1.2.b. UC – Personal Comments

- There are managers which assume their leadership, although they belong to a collective body, expressing themselves in the first person (PD 6). Others always use the third person (the governance body: CD or CC).
- There are managers, PCD's or PCC's, which take decisions without consulting the body (PD 6); others which clearly do not (PD 4).
- There are PCD's which consider their action to have impact over the scientific area, namely as regards recruitment (PD 6); others do not.

Given that the legal and institutional framework is the same, the difference may be at the level of decision-makers' leadership profile (more active, reactive...)

- Interviewing a PCD which is not at the top of his careers puts into evidence the constraints he feels, in light of the conflict of interests between body's power -> career -> academic power -> career -> body's power

HR management may originate conflict spaces in decision processes. In truth, there may be a strong conflict between institutional interests and personal interests of the president himself, or other members of the academy.

See Marçal Grilo's Interview

- We can generally see power delegation in Faculties, mostly informal, with a perspective of current management, which is somehow limited to operational and controlled decisions. In the perspective of who delegates it is an important delegation.

The CD, a collegial body with representation, seems to be a model of false collegiality (PD 7) because:

- there is a very strong corporative spirit of each body ("They listen much more to us, they always have that idea that they are before someone with a different competency or education"; Students' participation comes down to a CD in order to get the support they need for their issues, nuclei, etc., so they can have social gatherings, and celebrations at the park, or to give an opinion in a very specific field such as tuitions, etc.. Besides that they lack ideas. They are present at meetings but absent on ideas”; “staff, unfortunately, are much concerned about “roulements”, they are concerned about “someone who said that their case is not being defended, and that they should already have had a promotion””);

- There is an imbalance between bodies, which leads to not having true “freedom of speech and discussion” (the truth is that if it is a professor speaking it has more weight than if it is a staff member”; “of all members of the CD, staff are those who make themselves less heard”; “they seldom bring in strategy, for example, for staff recruitment needs in the FMUC, which lacks staff”).

Opposite is the CC where there is only one body, it is a truly collegial body.

The model seemed to want to follow the academic model “peers” and “dignify”, value other bodies, promoting peers in the CD, AR, etc.. However, they have not acknowledged being true peers.

The current model is justified not for good reasons as are its virtues, but rather for auditing, control and security, being able to, through its redundancy:

- reducing the impact of failures or errors;

"It also depends on how they operate, doesn't it? Sometimes, when one doesn't operate, the other becomes stronger. The failures are overcome by one or the other. The best would be for both to cooperate" (PD 2);

- to have an alternative when one of them doesn't lead;

- mutual control

"I have already mentioned that it makes sense to have two bodies... Yes. Even to control each other".

Post-graduation Students' Representativity

It can be sensed that the Faculty still does not consider post-graduations as important as graduation degrees. In this case (post-graduation) graduate degree students' participation is discussed, but post-graduate students' participation is not even equationed. They are not considered as actors in the management model. although the management model comprises students, students who participate, in Faculties and at the AAC, are exclusively graduate degree students. (PD 10)

Leadership

Leadership appears in some interviews associated to POWER and ACADEMIC AUTHORITY. This idea is implicit when the PCC is more associated to the leader than to the PCD.

(validated by the network). (inspired by PD 10)

Scientist-manager

The scientific-manager figure presented here represents the two facets of the manager: academic vs manager.

The academic has the scientific knowledge; the manager the methods and organization knowledge (bureaucracy). (PD 9)

About Information Systems...

"In more important decision-making processes is there any type of information you need that you don't have? It may happen, but I usually keep all the papers, i never throw anything away... " (PD 11)

PCC vs PCD

"regarding the area where you consider your action to be more effective, more important in terms of the final objectives you aim for? Well, i consider that it is more in the context of the PCC's action than the PCD..."

This valuing is very important in the institutional context, since it is just one person, which by electoral mechanisms, holds two positions. (PD 11)

PCD Delegation

The non delegation of HR seems to be a common point. In light of the sensitiveness and importance that this variable has, its delegation is not common. (PD 11)

"I admit the rector has some powers, but the vice-rectors have less. Naturally, the vice-rector who in charge of HR management, which analysis and authorizes competition, has some power. " (PD 13)

Assessment

In terms of assessment models, we are almost always before na internal evaluator... Not often does the idea of what employees think about students have much relevance.

Territories

They are different cultures, problems with the organization of the Universities' own structures according to knowledge áreas.. (PD 13)

Management Model - Head Figure ***

Even when there is a proposal for a model where powers are concentrated on one individual (Director, president, etc.), the academic culture always has a strong presence. For example, there is talk of "concentration" risk and there is a preference for choosing by election.

Appendix 6.3.b. Statistic Analysis of the Survey - PPU Heads of Administration

STATISTICAL METHODOLOGY

Initially, a mere description of the results was done. At this stage, those statistical calculations are not relevant due to the small sample size.

However, whenever possible, for groups A and B was applied the chi-square variance test when trying to test the hypothesis that there was a difference in the percentage of obtained responses. This calculation was applied whenever there was no response homogeneity and when the expected frequency for each response was superior to 5 in more than 80% of the cells. Therefore, for responses in group A – University Characteristics – it was necessary to group options 1 and 2 as well as 4 and 5. In group C, the binominal calculations were applied, equivalent to the adjustment chi-square variance test, because the responses are dichotomous.

Later, group A's responses were analyzed by option of response. It was then possible to observe that there was no relationship between the way in which subjects consider or not the adequacy of a governance model and the organizational structure of the university regarding the University's Characterization. This relationship was evaluated by the dispersion of false and non-relevant responses given to Group B as they relate to the university characterization evaluated in group A because it was not possible to apply the chi-square test of independence given that more than 20% of the cells in each table of variable intersection contained expected frequencies superior to 5 while there was no response homogeneity.

The results were obtained through the use of SPSS (Statistical Package for Social Sciences) application, version 12.0.

SAMPLE

13 surveys protocols were received, although only 12 were completely or almost completely filled out. Therefore. The analysis was performed on 12 survey protocols, being that only 1 presented a response to a single question (2% of the protocol).

ANALYSIS OF RESULTS

University Characterization

The University is considered by the respondents as being new (66.6%), with an encompassing activity by 40% of respondents and specialized by 35%, not formal or informal (66.7%), more national (50%) than international (33.4%), complex (75%), being the decision making process centralized by 41.7% of respondents and decentralized by 33.3%, with a majority of 66.7% local and non-national (8.3%).

	1		2		3		4		5
	n	%	n	%	n	%	n	%	n	%
New...Old	4	33.3	4	33.3	-	-	1	8.3	3	25.0
Encompassing... Specialized Act.	2	16.7	4	33.3	3	25.0	1	8.3	2	16.7
Formal...Informal	2	16.7	-	-	8	66.7	1	8.3	1	8.3
National...International	-	-	6	50.0	2	16.7	2	16.7	2	16.7
Simple...Complex	-	-	1	8.3	2	16.7	5	41.7	4	33.3
Centralized...descentralized Dec.	3	25.0	2	16.7	3	25.0	3	25.0	1	8.3
National...Local	-	-	1	8.3	3	25.0	6	50.0	2	16.7

The variance chi-square test was applied only to line a) “New ..... Old”, because only here the expected frequency was superior to 5 in, at least 80% of the cells. Therefore, it can be verified that although the percentage of cases that consider the University as “new” (66.6%) is higher than that of respondents that consider it “old”, because there are no responses in between (“3”), the difference is not statistically significant (chi-square (1) =1.33; P=0.248).

Organizational Structure and Governance Model

All the respondents agree with “The organizational structure and governance model of Public Universities enclose some inadequacy when faced with the rhythm of change in Higher Education”.

- The governance model requires improvement

It was unanimous, for all 12 respondents, that it is necessary to improve governance structures in order to obtain greatest efficiency, while necessary to respect the complexity of the University’s mission, according to the following:

	T		F		NA
	N	%	n	%	n	%
It is necessary to
a) Adjust governance structures to obtain more efficiency	12	100	-	-	-	-
b) Adjust the bodies’ representation	9	75.0	1	8.3	2	16.7
c) Integrate the perspective of external agents/stakeholder	10	83.3	-	-	2	16.7
d) Integrate evaluation models in the governance processes	11	91.7	1	8.3	-	-
e) Other improvements, such as	3*	25.0
However, it is necessary to consider
f) The University’s mission complexity	12	100	-	-	-	-
g) The governance collegiality principle	9	75.0	2	16.7	1	8.3
h) Faculties’ representation	10	83.3	-	-	2	16.7
i) Student participation in the governance bodies	10	83.3	-	-	2	16.7
j) Other	2	16.7

- * 1 – Re-equate the level of decentralization of the Faculties.
 2 – Change in institutional culture, beyond corporation and endogamy constrictions.
 3 – Promote mechanisms of motivation/recognition of collaboration promoting everyone’s involvement; management through performance objectives/evaluation.
- ** 1 – internal democratization and fair balance between academic freedom and global strategic vision
 2 – student participation in all bodies – only with everyone’s involvement is it possible to successfully follow and attain University defined policy.

In all remaining lines the great majority of cases considers true the suggested necessary changes, respecting the referred points, being statistically significant the difference between the number of cases that consider necessary to “Integrate the perspective of external agents/stakeholder” (chi-square (1)=5.33; p=0.021), “Integrate evaluation models in the governance processes” (chi-square (1) = 8.33; p=0.004), respecting “Faculties’ representation” (chi square(1)=5.33; p=0.021) and “student participation in the governance bodies” (chi-square (1)=5.33; p=0.021). In all the remaining lines it is inappropriate to apply the statistical model.

- Decision-making process requires improvement

Of the 12 responses, the totality refers that the decision making process requires improvement, considering that the improvements are due to the evolving of the strategic objectives, although other responses were also considered by the majority of respondents, as follows:

	n	%	n	%	n	%
Because
a) The decision structure is complex	10	83.3	2	16.7	-	-
b) The decision process is long	11	91.7	1	8.3	-	-
c) There are instability mechanisms	7	58.3	2	16.7	3	25.0
d) There are limitations to leadership	11	91.7	-	-	1	8.3
e) decision-making has a bureaucratic context	11	91.7	-	-	1	8.3
f) Strategic objectives have evolved	12	100	-	-	-	-
g) Other improvements, such as	2*	16.7
However, it is necessary to consider
h) The informal component enables the decision	10	83.3	1	8.3	-	-
i) Leadership is effective	10	83.3	1	8.3	-	-
j) The institutional values of freedom and autonomy are respected	9	75.0	2	16.7	-	-
k) Collegiality is respected	10	83.3	1	8.3	-	-
l) Other	2	16.7

* 1 - Leadership building with separation of decision-making and defining bodies from the policies of the executive/management bodies

2 - Electoral cycles are necessary to promote change; however they should not be as short as to prevent instability and irresponsible behavior of the projects to follow

** 1 - Collegiality is not dogma therefore there can be non-collegial (executive) bodies

2 - The Institution's own and specific values must be preserved; manage the present while keeping the future in perspective.

It was possible to apply the chi-square variance test to lines a), b), d), e), h), I), j), k), even if obvious that the majority of respondents considers the process of decision-making requires improvement due to instability mechanisms (58.3%).

For all the remaining reasons there is a verified significant statistical difference in the type of responses given, with the considered reason almost always true, or being necessary to consider the following options:

	Chi-square	p
a)	5.33(1)	0.021

- The decision-making and performance system must improve

Only 10 respondents (83.3%) refer to the improvement of the decision-making and performance system, and only 11 responded to lines a), b) and g). Therefore, the totality of respondents must consider that the decision-making support system and performance improvement must evolve, otherwise they would not have answered the lines regarding this question.

* - Staff and attitudes must be professionalized.

** - If worth is given to all types of relevant information or from relevant sources.

- Not all information is valuable and it must be selected and directed towards supporting decision-making.

It is only appropriate to apply the chi-square variance test to lines a) and h), items where it is significantly superior the percentage of cases which consider support systems to decision-making and performance improvement because “information organization it is not geared towards activity management” (chi-square (1) = 7.36; p=0.007), and it is necessary to consider that “the information levels are adequate to the decision-making levels” (chi-square (1) = 5.33; p=0.021).

PORTUGUESE PUBLIC UNIVERSITIES

Survey respondents consider that, in a Portuguese Public University the decision-making and strategic governance model must encompass an explicit mission definition and a shared governance system, being that only 33.3% of the sample considers that the Portuguese Public Universities already encompass it. In these items, there was no statistically significant difference between the cases that do and do not encompass it.

The majority of respondents, in a significantly superior proportion consider the Portuguese Public Universities must include decision-making feedback mechanisms (91.7%; p=0.006) and performance evaluation systems (83.3%; p=0.039), although not in the immediate future.

No one considers that the Portuguese Public Universities include information systems to support decision-making and monitoring, but consider that they should.
