This program was made printer-ready on Sunday 25 June 2017; later changes will be announced on site. An interactive version will be available at <https://www.ulster.ac.uk/ipra>

In this program, all contributions are coded as follows:

- the first digit (1, 2, 3, 4, or 5) refers to the day (1 = Sunday 16 July, etc.)
- the second digit (1, 2, 3, 4, 5) refers to the session in the day (1= 8:30 to 10:00, etc., see the program overview on the next page); papers coded 5-4 are all posters
- the third digit refers to the lecture room
 - all plenary sessions will be held in Halls 1A and 1B combined (i.e. 06 and 07 in the overview below)
 - all parallel sessions are held in rooms 01 to 22, as in the overview below

21	3 rd floor (Meeting room 3a)	100
22	3 rd floor (Meeting room 3b)	100

- the final digit (1, 2, 3, 4, exceptionally 5) refers to the order of appearance within a time slot.

This program contains four different types of events:

- Plenary lectures: 45-minute presentations; speakers may fill up the entire period or choose to leave a little time for questions.
- Lectures: individual presentations of 20 minutes each; lecture sessions typically contain 3 consecutive presentations that are followed by up to 10 minutes of discussion; for (exceptional) ‘overbooked’ sessions with four presentations, speakers are asked to deliver their 20-minute presentations consecutively, followed by up to 10 minutes of open discussion; for ‘underbooked’ sessions with only two presentations, speakers are urged to stick to the 20+10 minute format so that participants know what is happening when; in the case of further cancellations, the scheduled order of presentation should be preserved; lecture sessions are chaired by the last speaker of the session.
- Posters: put up on poster boards from Sunday onwards, with an exclusive poster period in the afternoon on Thursday; authors are expected to be present at their poster during that period.
- Panels: pre-organized thematic events; the program gives an order in which presentations will be made, but the format may differ greatly from panel to panel (as the number of speakers varies within given 90-minute time slots, and the organizers may give an introduction and arrange for discussion time as they see fit); participants are therefore advised not to switch between panels, as this will most probably not get them what they are looking for at any given time.

NEW JOURNAL 2017

Pragmatics

Quarterly Publication of the International Pragmatics Association (IPrA)

Editor-in-Chief: Helmut Gruber

University of Vienna

journal's e-mail address: jef.verschueren@uantwerpen.be

Pragmatics is the peer-reviewed quarterly journal of the International Pragmatics Association (IPrA), which was established in 1986 to represent the field of linguistic pragmatics, broadly conceived as the interdisciplinary (cognitive, social, cultural) science of language use. Its goal is to reflect the diversity of topics, applications, methods and approaches available within this wide field, and thus to contribute to IPrA's foundational aim of searching for coherence across different perspectives and of bridging any gaps between the field's practitioners, whether their background is linguistic, anthropological, sociological, psychological, computational, etc.

From 2017 onwards the journal will be produced and distributed by John Benjamins Publishing Company.

Pragmatics is made available online as free content after a 12-month embargo period. Members of the International Pragmatics Association (IPrA) have access to the online version by logging in with their user name and password at the IPrA website (<http://ipra.ua.ac.be>). When applying for or renewing their membership, IPrA members may also choose to pay the additional fee required to receive paper copies.
