

Corrigendum

Title of output: Notes from a Workshop on what Areas are Good for Car Share Schemes

Authors: Currie, Christine, M'Hallah, Rym and Oliveira, Beatriz Brito

Publisher

<https://eprints.soton.ac.uk/499194/>

In the above output, the following text on page 7 should be corrected from:

Insurance premiums require changes. A US car share company spent more than £300 million for insurance premiums but ended up leaving the UK market anyway. The government has launched a consultation but implementing the recommendations of the consultation will take years while real change is needed now. Insurance companies work differently in the UK than in other countries.

to:

Insurance premiums require changes. The government has launched a consultation but implementing the recommendations of the consultation will take years while real change is needed now. Insurance companies work differently in the UK than in other countries.

Month Year change was made: May 2025